

CONTINUING & PROFESSIONAL STUDIES (CPS)

About Us

Jefferson's Continuing and Professional Studies (CPS) programs and certificates are uniquely created for professionals and aspiring professionals seeking to start or complete an academic program in a field of their choosing, including healthcare, business, medical coding, information technology, human resources and more.

With an eye towards access, we offer convenient accelerated 8-week courses in an online, asynchronous format. Our flexible approach, coupled with our personalized advising model, meets each student where they are and empowers them to attain their academic goals.

Educational Programs Offered

- Accelerated Programs: Associate's and Bachelor's degree programs; certificates
- Non-Degree Courses: Students interested in taking individual courses or completing prerequisites can register as a non-degree student. Credits earned are transferable to appropriate degree programs.
- Professional Development Certificates: Certificate programs to provide up-to-date training, hands-on experience, and tools that will keep you at the forefront of your field, or help you explore a new interest.
