

COMMUNICATIONS (COMM)

COMM 201: Intercultural CommunicCredits: 3College: Jefferson College of Humanities & SciencesSchedule Type: LectureCOMM 214: Technologies of Communication*Credits: 3College: Jefferson College of Humanities & SciencesSchedule Type: Lecture, On-LineCOMM 220: Speak to Lead in Digital Age

In this course you will learn to merge the basics of effective public speaking with visual technology, allowing you to make effective and professional quality presentations. You will intensively practice speaking in front of an audience. In addition, you will study the standards of professional presentation for different audiences. These skills will not only be useful in larger, formal public speaking settings, but also for small group and interpersonal communications, and for constructing, analyzing and criticizing claims, arguments and rhetorical techniques more generally. This course is a hybrid, meaning our in-class work will be supplemented by online assignments. These are indicated by an ONLINE in the syllabus and on our Canvas course site. We will not meet in our classroom that week, but will submit the assigned work for that day online. This work will expand and support our in-class discussions.
